

EDS AND ORACLE ALIGN TO ENABLE LEGACY MODERNIZATION

EDS, an HP company, and Oracle deliver best-in-class applications that advance your modernization efforts. We do so by tapping the power of Oracle's bundled application and database technologies for the Java platform.

World-class solutions that deliver

EDS and Oracle are collaborating to accelerate and deliver best-in-class offerings in application development, management and implementation, built on Oracle's database, middleware and application software, which are essential components of the EDS Agile Enterprise.

What the EDS-Oracle alliance means to you

EDS and Oracle have invested significantly in preintegrated solutions, which positions the partnership to offer clients world-class expertise in a comprehensive set of solutions including:

- Legacy application modernization
- Grid computing
- Service-oriented architecture solutions
- Enterprise portal and composite application solutions
- Business intelligence and data warehousing solutions
- Enterprise Applications for CRM and HR BPO
- Enterprise Applications Services, featuring Oracle On Demand

"Oracle believes that the EDS Agility Alliance is just what the market needs. We collaborate to support our clients' business objectives and, by bringing to market unique application modernization solutions, we help them to improve their business performance."
