

EDS AND SAP EXPAND APPLICATION-BASED CONSULTING PRACTICE TO MEET GROWING CLIENT DEMANDS

Together, EDS, an HP company, and SAP have created a global SAP Consulting Practice to provide the services you need in order to optimize your mission-critical applications. The enhanced EDS and SAP relationship is in response to strong client demand for integrated, end-to-end applications that work together smoothly and deliver optimal value to your business.

Partnership brings greater value to our clients

World-class IT leaders – EDS and SAP – have combined the capabilities in their respective industries: SAP in mission-critical enterprise applications and EDS in global delivery and applications management and hosting. SAP's enterprise applications provide mission-critical business functions. EDS provides business-proven IT services and integration of SAP solutions to reduce the total cost of ownership, while increasing service quality.

As a certified SAP partner, EDS helps companies extend their SAP implementations with our prepackaged service offerings and implementation expertise. Our track record of applications management and outsourcing gives companies the increased scalability, high availability and a global reach they are demanding from their applications environment.

This best-of-breed, industry-based Consulting Practice leverages the expertise from both companies to deliver increased value to our joint clients, while lowering costs and improving quality.

What the EDS-SAP Alliance means to you

With EDS' robust, global delivery capabilities we can deliver SAP services to our clients from one of our seven Best Shore® Centers of Excellence around the world.

For more than 17 years, EDS and SAP have partnered to deliver business software solutions that reduce time-to-market and lower clients' total cost of ownership. EDS has been an SAP client since 1997, deploying numerous SAP solutions to a user population of approximately 873,000.

"EDS' broad and deep deployment of SAP software to a multitude of international clients enables the company to standardize its global operations on SAP's Business Process Platform to compete more effectively in the applications development market."
