

Suparno Banerjee on the EDS Government Journal Release

<http://www.eds.com/industries/government/journal/>.

Abstract: Suparno Banerjee, vice president of the Global Government Industry for EDS, announces the release of the second issue of the EDS Government Journal, which addresses the topic of Identity Management.

Suparno Banerjee:

I am very pleased to announce the release of the second issue of the Government Journal.

This issue is dedicated to Identity Management for several reasons. Citizens are concerned about security and privacy; there is widespread debate in government circles about using Identity Management in a number of areas; and finally, we see the transition from discussion and debate to action—action in the form of implementation and programs in a number of different areas.

This rapidly emerging market is being driven by a complex set of business needs and the fact that technology has become reliable and has reached price points that make large-scale implementations economically viable.

The articles in this journal present our point of view and a perspective from which we hope to engage in a wider debate. We look forward to your comments, to your references, to your experiences, and your points of view. We look for these comments regardless of whether they agree with the article or run counter to them, because we believe that a richer debate will ensue and our final points of view will only serve our clients better.

I hope you enjoy the article and we look forward to your comments.